Round Rock, Texas, the USA - March 22, 2020 - An emerging author, Debs Darden, is releasing a new e-book called HOPES RENEWED, VALUE REDISCOVERED on Smashwords.com. It is priced at $2.00 USD. This collection of short stories focuses on finding hope where none seems to be found and realizing one's worth.

This e-book shares three short stories as well as a creative nonfiction piece. It begins with the short story "Happiness? Try Your Best". Here, a young and hopeless woman named Ava attempts to take her own life which leads to a subconscious journey for meaning.

This flows into the creative nonfiction piece, "In Hopes". In this story, the author shares how a personal family trial shaped her perspective of hardships. The next short story, "Our Room", highlights the mistakes of the couple Brian and Tess. In a setting that once meant something to them, the couple tries to reconcile their wrong decisions.

The collection wraps up with "Discouraged Winter". The seasons themselves are the characters in this story. The main focus is Winter opening her eyes to the beauty of her kingdom with the help of her siblings.

The author, Debs (Deborah) Darden, is a novelist specializing in romance, comedy, creative nonfiction, and fantasy. She is earning her BFA in creative writing from Full Sail University. Debs is a member of the American Writers and Artists Institute. She is an avid tea and coffee drinker harboring strong affection for Chinese/Korean dramas.
